2001: A RESEARCH & PROMOTIONS ODYSSEY
A multi-purpose entertainment/services organization

P.O. Box 8949, Los Angeles, Calif., 90008 (213) 299-2790 Mansfield Collins, President

GRANT REQUEST

2001 is a multi-purpose promotional and research company. At the present time it operates out of two business offices. One in Los Angeles, and one in Berkeley. The Berkeley address is 1831 Delaware, Ste. 3A.

We are requesting a grant of $1200 to develope the concept design for the establishment of an "Upward Mobility Promotions and Productions Company." Such organization will be owned and operated by Third World persons with expertise in promotional endeavors.

The concept behind Upward Mobility is its training feature. It will train Bay area third world persons in the trade of concert and festival productions by holding on-site and seminar type sessions.

The plans for such an organization will be submitted no later than the first day of May, 1975. The grant money will cover those costs associated with conducting feasibility studies, drawing up the plan for implementation, and winning its acceptance in the Third World Community. In short, 2001 will act as the developer of this unique idea.

Revenue generated from Upward Mobility will be earmarked on a certain fixed rate to be recycled back into Third World communities.
